Prayer for beginners (And we're all beginners)

RAYER is a basic part of life as a Christian. We pray in church, at home, together, on our own... We offer thanks to God, ask his forgiveness when we get things wrong, pray for people we care about and much more. Often we pray 'on the spur of the moment', responding to situations as we meet them. Choosing to pray in a disciplined way, though, is a step further in life with God.

There are lots of patterns of prayer which you can use and one thing is vital if you're going to build a pattern of prayer – time. It doesn't need to be a lot, but you need to set aside at least a few minutes regularly, and to make yourself do it – even if that means leaving some other things undone for the moment.

Get yourself comfortable, and don't feel that you need to rush straight into praying. Often it helps to spend a few moments being still and breathing deeply to let your mind slow down a bit.

Then comes the praying part. If you're trying to get started in this, why not use the prayer Jesus taught us? It's both a wonderful prayer in itself and a great pattern for our own prayers.

Our Father in heaven,
Hallowed be your Name.
Your Kingdom come,
Your will be done on earth as in heaven.
Give us today our daily bread
Forgive us our trespasses
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
Lead us not into temptation
but deliver us from evil.
For the Kingdom, the power and the glory are yours
now and forever. Amen.

From early on in the church, it's been recommended that we stop to pray this prayer at least three times a day – on rising, at mid-day and in the evening. Try praying it slowly and thoughtfully this way for a few days.

Then take a bit longer, and perhaps once a day, stop after each line to think and pray about the kind if things the prayer mentions. So after 'Our Father in heaven' just take a moment to think about God – what do you believe he is like? Ask him to help you to know. After 'Hallowed be your Name', think of three things to praise and thank God about. Think through what each line of the prayer means, and spend a few moments praying about those things.

Try this for a week, and see how you feel about prayer then!

THE 'COFFEE AND KIDS' POP-IN

please let Joan know that you are coming (01642 591667).

The Coffee and Kids parent/carer and toddler group on Wednesdays at Stainton is great fun! We are open 10.00am to 12 noon each Wednesday.

We have between 10-14 under-3's coming along to the Stainton Parish Room each week, supervised by a parent or a grandparent.

The children have a great time playing together and at the end of the session they sing their favourite action songs. Sometimes they do some activities. If anyone wants to find out more about Coffee and Kids then please do get in touch with the Leaders: Judith and Vernon Clare; Bob Ardley and Joan Mason.

Helping Hands

mother, wishing to encourage her son's progress at the piano, bought tickets to a performance by the great Polish pianist Ignace Paderewski. When the evening arrived, they found their seats near the front of the concert hall and eyed the majestic Steinway waiting on the stage. Soon the mother found a friend to talk to, and the boy slipped away.

At eight o'clock, the lights in the auditorium began to dim, the spotlights came on, and only then did they notice the boy - up on the piano bench, innocently picking out "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star." His mother gasped in shock and embarrassment but, before she could retrieve her son, the master himself appeared on the stage and quickly moved to the keyboard.

He whispered gently to the boy, "Don't quit. Keep playing." Leaning over, Paderewski reached down with his left hand and began filling in the bass part. Soon his right arm reached around the other side and improvised a delightful obligato. Together, the old master and the young novice held the crowd mesmerized with their blended and beautiful music.

In all our lives, we receive helping hands - some we notice, some we don't. Equally we ourselves have countless opportunities to provide helping hands - sometimes we would like our assistance to be noticed, sometimes we don't. Little of what we all achieve is without learning from others and without support from others and what we receive we should hand out.

Trappist monk was allowed to say only two words every three years. After the first three years, he said to the Brother Superior, "Bad bed." Three years later he came back to say, "Bad food." After three more years of silence the monk said, "No TV." Another three years passed. This time the monk appeared with robes and sandals in hand and announced, "I quit." The Brother Superior answered, "It's no wonder. You've done nothing but complain since you got here!"

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

rturo Toscanini was one of the world's most admired conductors during the first half of the 20th century. He worked at La Scala and later led the NBC Symphony. Born in Italy on March 25, 1867, Arturo Toscanini first established himself as a talented conductor when he was just 19. In a career that spanned decades, Toscanini worked with leading opera houses and symphonies across the globe, including La Scala, the Metropolitan Opera, the New York Philharmonic and the NBC Symphony Orchestra. At the age of 89, Toscanini died in New York on January 16th 1957.

His parents were Claudio and Paola Montani Toscanini. At the age of 9, Toscanini entered Parma's Royal School of Music. By the time he was 17, he was conducting his own compositions at the school. He graduated in 1885, receiving the highest honours in composition and cello. After his graduation, Toscanini joined a travelling opera company as a cellist.

However, one night in Brazil he filled in as conductor during a performance of Giuseppe Verdi's Aida. Toscanini, who had memorized the opera's score, performed brilliantly and greatly impressed the audience. Given his triumph, Toscanini continued to serve as conductor for the remainder of the season, thus establishing his talent and reputation at the young age of 19.

In 1896, Toscanini conducted for the first time at Milan's La Scala (Italy's most renowned opera house). The music he led in this performance included a symphony by Franz Joseph Haydn and Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker Suite. Toscanini's success grew when he was chosen to serve as La Scala's principal conductor in 1898.

After the war, Toscanini brought a La Scala orchestra on tour in Europe, Canada and the United States. Toscanini also continued to lead American groups, first appearing as a conductor with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in 1926. He would work with the orchestra until 1936.

He is remembered for his desire to give credit where credit is due. In David Ewen's Dictators of the Baton, the author describes how members of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra rose to their feet and cheered Toscanini at the end of a rehearsal of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. When there was a lull in the ovation and with tears in his eyes Auturo's broken voice could be exclaiming as he spoke; "it isn't me ...its Beethoven...Toscanini is nothing."

In the Apostle Paul's New Testament letters, he also refused to take credit for his spiritual insight and influence. He knew that he was like a spiritual father and mother to many who had put their faith in Christ. He admitted that he had worked hard and suffered much to encourage the faith hope and love of so many, but he could not in good conscience accept the applause of those who were inspired by his faith, love and insight.

So for his reader's sake and for ours, Paul said in effect, "It isn't me, brothers and sisters. It's Christ..... Paul is nothing."

We are only the messengers of the one who deserves our applause.

How to get to Heaven

asked the children in my Sunday school class. "If I sold my house and my car, had a big garage sale, and gave all my money to the church, would that get me into heaven?" "NO!" the children all answered.

"If I cleaned the church every day, mowed the grass, and kept everything neat and tidy, would that get me into heaven?" Again the answer was, "NO!"

"Well, then, if I was kind to animals and gave sweets to all the children and loved my wife, would that get me into heaven?" I asked them again. Once more they all answered ."NO!"

"Well," I continued, thinking they were a good bit more theologically sophisticated than I had given them credit for, "then how can I get into heaven?"

A five-year-old boy shouted out, "You gotta be dead!"

Our Church family

Norman Frankish is one of Stainton Church's much-loved and treasured elder members. At 97 years young he still takes an active part in Services, reading the lessons and administering the Chalice...Here is his story.

was born in Errol Street in Middlesbrough and in the beginning I was not expected to live but to die within two days but I believe I was the beneficiary of two miracles.

Firstly a Priest from St Michael's Church in Waterloo Road came to the house and christened me into the Christian religion. Then the medicos did something very unusual at that time, they completely changed my blood supply. It worked and so here I am today, 97 years later and still in God's care. What have I done along the way? Grown up 'as you do'.

A bright education at Victoria Road School saw me selected to play football, cricket and athletics for Middlesbrough School Teams. Into 'teens and I played table-tennis for the Y.M.C.A. who were champions of the M'bro and District league. To this day I retain a high interest in all sporting activities.

Middlesbrough therefore is my home town irrespective of having lived in London, Manchester, Liverpool, and The Wirral and for six years in Scotland, all during the course of my business career. With the exception of London my darling wife Irene was with me in all those locations and produced new homes everywhere. We were blessed with 75 years of a wonderful marriage. I lost her just 18 months ago.

I joined the R.A.F. in 1939 and was called up in early 1940. I served 6 years as a Ground Engineer though I flew most days on test flights with different pilots to ensure the airworthiness of the aircraft – (4 engine Halifax bombers). The Squadron was formed at Middleton St George where we preceded the Canadian Lancaster Squadrons. We moved to other airfields but all of us should remember the 55,000 aircrew who gave their lives in World War 11, the single biggest loss from any unit during the war.

Just a short flash-back to when I was about 7. I was wakened one morning about 7am to observe the German Graf Zeppelin flying as it seemed right along Linthorpe Road at only about 200 feet. This huge dirigible was popularly thought to be photographing the area in preparation for the next war.

At the end of the war next stop was India. We transferred for Halifax Bombers to Dakotas and had to learn how to fly towing gliders filled with troops in preparation for the attack on Burma. We flew out to India through Monsoon storms and were finally based in Poona. However, Hiroshima put a stop to active service though it was another 9 months in sweltering heat.

Returning home I spent the rest of my working life with 2 major companies –firstly with the American tobacco company - J Wix and sons who manufactured Kensitas cigarettes; After some time I was 'head-hunted' by the English Confectionary company – James Pascall of Mitcham – you may remember Fruit Bon Bons and a host of other varieties, as a manager. I became national sales manager with some 150 staff.

I ended with yet another confectionary company – Trebor – in charge of their affairs.

A final word. We came to Stainton some 40 years ago and have enjoyed every moment since. For about 12 years I produced the 'Stainton Chronicle' whilst Irene was Treasurer of the W.I. for about 14 years when their membership was around the 100 mark.

The Church of St Peter and St Paul has played a big part in my Stainton life and has given me devotional motivation and precious friends

Children's Society cake bake

A cake bake will be held on Saturday 7th July, from 10 am until 12 noon, in St. Margaret's church hall.

Admission is £1, which will include tea, coffee, and biscuits.

Would people be able to help on the day, and if so, please let me know as soon as possible?

Gifts for the Tombola and raffle would be appreciated, together with books, to be brought to church, or my home, before the date.

Cakes and pastries on the day would also be gratefully received at the church hall.

Asking questions

A father had taken his seven year old son fishing for the first time. After a couple of hours out in the boat, the boy suddenly became curious about the world around him. He asked his dad, "How does this boat float?" Dad thought for a moment, then replied, "Don't rightly know, son." The boy was quiet for a while, and then turned back to his dad, "How do fish breathe underwater?" Once again his dad replied, "Don't rightly know, son."

A little later the boy asked his dad, "Why is the sky blue?" Again, the dad replied. "Don't rightly know, son." Worried he was going to annoy his dad, he asked, "Dad, do you mind if I ask you all of these questions?" "Of course not son". His dad replied "If you don't ask questions, you'll never learn anything!"

BROOKFIELD BRANCH

We meet on the second Tuesday each month at 2.00pm at St Margaret's Church Hall.

We held the Wave of Prayer on Wednesday 2nd May, at 10.30.am, when we were joined by members from Stainton.

Because all of our members were unable to attend, we held it again at our normal meeting, when we also organised a tombola for the coffee morning, which we held on Saturday 12 May.

I would like to thank all the members of St Margaret's Church, and people from the drop-in who donated tombola prizes, and cakes, books and raffle prizes.

The coffee morning raised £338, which is for Mothers Union charities, both in England and abroad.

Many thanks to those who attended and helped to make it a friendly morning.

Our speaker in June will be Mandy Fisher form "Faithfully Ageing Better."

Branch Leader: Florence Harris (Tel: 01642 594272)

STAINTON BRANCH

We meet on the third Monday each month at 7.00pm in the Parish Room of St Peter & St Paul Church, Stainton.

Many thanks to Rev. Paul Peverell who came to our April meeting, and brought various puppets for us to see, a great night. We have been very busy over the last few weeks, holding our Annual Wave of Prayer combined with Brookfield, and holding our Deanery Festival at Kirklevington, where the Banner was processed. Our meeting on June 18th will be a fundraiser, Wine & Cheese with Fun and Games.

All Welcome. Tickets available.

Recipe

Many years ago, to help raise money to build St Timothy's church, Stainton Parish published several cook books. We included recipes from congregation members, from around the country and abroad, and from some 'celebrities.' Here is the one that Mrs Margaret Thatcher sent:-

COLD CHICKEN VERONIQUE

Boil a young chicken and when cold divide into large pieces.

Beat up two egg yolks with half a pint of cream and a glass of sherry.

Stir over a low heat until slightly thickened, but do not boil.

Pour over the chicken and sprinkle with finely grated lemon peel.

The sauce will thicken as the dish cools.

Boil some rice and while still warm, mix in some olive oil, tarragon vinegar and season to taste. Add stoned black olives, chopped celery, sliced tomato and chopped green and red pimentos.

Faith and the Dandelion

I remember as a young boy picking my mum bouquets of dandelions. The smile that came to her face, the gentle kiss on my forehead and the soft words she spoke as she reconfirmed what I already knew., Those are the prettiest flowers I've ever seen." "How about we put them on the table where everyone can see them." I'm convinced they were beautiful since they always made her happy.

Years later I moved into my own home and my neighbours were consumed with the war they'd declared on the "dreaded dandelion." I sheepishly grinned within because I knew they were up against a worthy opponent. Nonetheless, they brought in their heavy artillery and advanced across the battlefield destroying and crushing under their feet.

One early morning, while having a cup of coffee on my deck, admiring the beautiful array of yellow dining room flowers canvassing my "No War Zone." I was reminded, everything and everybody that God created is beautiful and valuable in His eyes, designed with a purpose.

I've learned three valuable lessons from the dandelion. First, they will bring a smile to a mother's eyes. Second, they aren't destroyed when they're exposed to heat. Thirdly, they spring forth the next morning full of life (in addition our tortoise Henry loves them). No matter how hard they were hit the day before. I do realize I said three reasons, but this one is free since this is my story and I can. My grandpa always said, "If, Jesus can turn water into wine. Then certainly he can make a good wine out of a dandelion."

And, a final thought to pass on about the dandelion is, even though you can't see it at dawn's break, doesn't mean it's not there. So is, our faith the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things unseen. The dandelion springs forth with new life when exposed to the morning sun, just as our faith becomes alive when we're exposed to the "Son."
